Restoring Now

New Exterior And-Insulation Going On Jason Russell House

Restoration of the exterior of the Jason Russell House was started last week by the Arlington Historical Society. Clapboards and shingles weakened by dry rot will be replaced.

The dry rot was discovered last summer when the society wanted to repaint the house. The exterior wood of hand hewed pine and the brick and clay insulation will be removed and replaced before painting is done.

V. Robert Gagosian of V.R. Gagosian Company which is doing the work, says dry rot is caused by moisture. When the house was last restored no one apparently knows, but Gagosian says they have found patches of repair work as they stripped away the dry wood.

On Friday as they pulled boards off they also found several small paper playing cards and a paper domino which somehow ended up in the exterior of the house.

Three inch fiberglass will be put in for insulation and cedar clapboards put on the outside, then a new coat of paint to get the house ready for the next season.

The house is closed to visitors right now, but will open in April. The public part of the house is not heated and during the renovation paintings and wall hangings have been removed so they will not be damaged during the restoration.

When the house opens, visitors will find much to enjoy. The oldest part of the home is the front hall and stairs, old kitchen and upstairs bedroom which were the original house built in 1680.

The kitchen and parlor, which was part of an addition, still show three bullet holes from that day in 1775 when Jason Russell and 11 others were killed by the British. Some of the men were killed in the upstairs bedroom.

A unique feature of the old kitchen is the spotted ceiling which was discovered in restoration after the Historical Society bought the house in 1923. The ceiling is decorated with painted circles which appear to have been daubed on.

Furnishings in the kitchen include spinning and flax wheels, an hour glass and candlesticks in the closet next to the brick fireplace, fireplace pots and tools, a butter churn, foot warmer and flintlocks.

Off the old kitchen is the assembly room, once two rooms, which was added at a later date. Here, where the historical society, DAR and Jason Russell Society occasionally meet, are displayed paintings and photographs of Arlington, dolls, an 1880 two wheel bike, 13 star flag, a deed from the Indians for Arlington and a letter signed by Russell.

Sixteen Candidates For Major Office; Rawson In Race

The final date for filing has been reached and the results indicate that there will be 16 candidates for major office at the annual election, March 7.

If there is to be any change in the rundown of candidates between now and election day, it must come before Monday which is the final date for filing withdrawals or objections; the final hour is 5 p.m.

The only change over the situation of a week ago is in the Selectmen's contest where there are now five candidates instead of the four of last week.

Former member of the Board Thomas R. Rawson took out papers Thursday and filed before the deadline.

The four previously entered in the Selectmen's contest include incumbents Kevin P. Feeley, John J. Balafer and candidates John Macaris and William S. Abbott.

Three candidates filed in the Assessors' race: incumbent William O. Hauser Jr., Paul E. Cantrell and John S. Perry.

Incumbents Thomas D. Kenna Jr. and Carl F. Allen and candidates Jo-Ann Benoit, Eugene J. Kirby, Richard A. Kraus and Earle R. Rowe all filed before the last Saturday's deadline in the School Committee contest.

This paper at press time learned that Jo-Ann Benoit is still a candidate.

She had declined a candidates' night invitation saying that she was withdrawing.

Incumbent Joseph S. Vahev and Thomas M. Kelly are candidates for Housing Authority.

EDISON LINEMAN CUTS POWER in wires which had trapped town yard watchman Paul H. Frederick for nearly two hours during the storm on Monday night. The lines carried over 4,000 volts and Frederick received a couple of minor jolts when he touched equipment inside the office. Otherwise uninjured, he looks from door window at left.

School Survey

$18 Million, 10 Year Plan Recommended By Booz, Allen

The Booz, Allen and Hamilton Inc. report on school facilities calling for a 10-year program of replacement of High School Building A, Junior High Industrial Arts, Cutter and Locke Schools and expansion of Junior Highs East and West, Dallin, Peirce and Stratton Schools is being published this week by the School Facilities Survey Committee.

About 10,000 copies of a 13 page summary of the full report - which numbers over 200 pages - are being prepared for distribution to town meeting members, town committees and taxpayers. The full text of the summary report is printed in today's Advocate.

On Wednesday, Feb. 11, the Facilities Committee will sponsor an 8 p.m. meeting in Town Hall at which the Booz, Allen and Hamilton team will discuss their report.

Shortly after the town elections copies of the complete report will be made available to town officials and put in the public libraries. On March 11 a meeting on the Booz, Allen and Hamilton report will be held for town meeting members.

The summary report reviews five alternatives to Arlington's school facilities problems and recommends one which was the guide for warrant articles submitted by the Facilities Survey Committee.

This recommended program, which would cost an estimated $18.77 million at current costs, would call for expansion of the senior high school to accommodate 4,000 students instead of building a third junior high. The committee submitted a warrant article asking for cost estimates on renovation and construction at the high school.

The reason for preferring this plan, according to the report, is that it would avoid duplication of secondary school facilities, continue a four-year senior high school plan and would cost less than a plan for a new junior high.

Included in the recommendation were the following details: Replace Building A and expand the high school to 4,000 students; expand Junior High East to 500 students by 1975 and Junior High West to 1300 students as soon as possible.

Also, replace Junior High Industrial Arts School with an elementary school which would relieve overcrowding at Parmenter; replace Cutter with a new school by 1981; expand Dallin by 1975.

At Deadline Time

172 Candidates File

A total of 172 Arlington residents filed papers in the Town Meeting contests before the deadline, Jan. 31. One hundred and fifty-eight of the candidates who filed are seeking election to three year terms in the community's 14 precincts.

Eight are seeking election to two year terms and six to one year terms.

There are more candidates than vacancies in 11 of the 14 precincts (three year term) while there the same amount of candidates as vacancies in three precincts.

There were no candidates for a two year term and for one, one year term.

Following is a rundown of numbers of candidates and vacancies who filed papers seeking three-year terms: Precinct 1 - six seek four seats; Precinct 2 - 21 seek 15 spots; Precinct 3 - five seek three; Precinct 4 - five for five; Precinct 5 - 11 for seven; Precinct 6 - eight for four; Precinct 7 - six for five.

In Precinct 8, eight will seek five seats; there will be 12 for six in Precinct 9; eight for five in Precinct 10; 41 for 30 in Precinct 11; six for six in Precinct 12; six for six in Precinct 13 and 15 for nine in Precinct 14.

One candidate seeks a two year term in Precinct 4; the same is true in Precinct 5.

Two candidates seek one two year term in Precinct 8 and the same is true in Precinct 10.

There are no candidates for one two year term seat in Precinct 13, but there are two candidates for a two year term in Precinct 14.

No one seeks a one year term in Precinct 7 while two candidates seek election for one year terms in Precincts 9, 10 and 12.

Man Trapped 2 Hours By Downed Wires As Storm Hits Arlington

A Public Works Department employee was trapped by falling wires for nearly two hours Monday night and power wassout in many sections of town as a storm with high winds and heavy rain hit the area.

Paul H. Frederick, watchman at the town yard, on Grove st., was trapped when two high voltage power lines snapped and fell across the wooden stairway of the watch office overlooking the yard.

Frederick said that about 6:45 p.m. he heard a piece of sheet metal blowing across the yard and went to the door to look out. Suddenly two power lines overhead snapped and fell right in front of him, along the full length of the stairway, sending up a bright flash and a shower of sparks.

Frederick said he felt an electric shock from the wet door, then got another momentary shock as he was telephoning the police for assistance. Just then DPW foreman Bill McGurl drove into the yard, spotted the downed and arcing wires and immediately radioed for fire apparatus and the Edison Company.

McGurl yelled to Frederick to stay away from the doorway and Engine 2 responded to stand by in case the arcing wires caused a fire.

According to Edison Company officials, one of the wires lying across the doorway and down the stairs carried 4,160 volts, and the other 2,400 volts.

Public Works Director Ray Ouellette and Fire Chief Robert Blomquist responded to the yard. They decided that Frederick was in no immediate danger as long as he didn't try to come out of the watch room and as long as the wooden structure didn't catch fire.

The downed wires sent sparks and lightning-like flashes into the air for more than an hour and a half as the loose ends swung against a chain link fence and a metal rain spout. When the Edison linemen arrived he cut wires near the crossarms on two poles in order to kill the power.

Frederick, although shaken up by the experience, was uninjured. Meanwhile, the storm was creating havoc in other parts of the town.

An explosion in an Edison manhole at Massachusetts ave. and Franklin st. cut off power for nearly seven hours along Mass. ave. between Franklin st. and Bates rd. and on many adjacent side streets. Engine 1 was tied up for an hour at Franklin st., waiting for the Edison Company.

Wires were down in many sections and fire apparatus was called to stand by until the Edison Company could shut the power off or cut the wires.

Engine 4 was called to 19 Windermere ave. at 6:58 p.m. for an arcing wire and returned at 7:12 p.m. It was dispatched again at 7:37 p.m. for an arcing wire at 147 Franklin st. and returned at 8:01 p.m.

Box 551 was struck for a fire in a basement at 32 Dudley st. caused by a delayed oil burner ignition (STORM - Page 3)

School Committee Asked To Make $250,000 Budget Cut

The School Committee was asked to cut $250,000 from its 1970 budget of $8,042,318 by the Finance Committee this week. To date, $105,000 has been taken out.

Discussion of the budget will continue at next Tuesday's meeting which will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Junior High Industrial Arts Building. Also on the agenda is the Bishop School auditorium, open classrooms, busing at Peirce, and specifications for the guidance director.

The Finance Committee request was made by Bernard Forest who told the committee that unless they could justify why they shouldn't further cut the budget the Finance Committee subcommittee would stick by its budget figures.

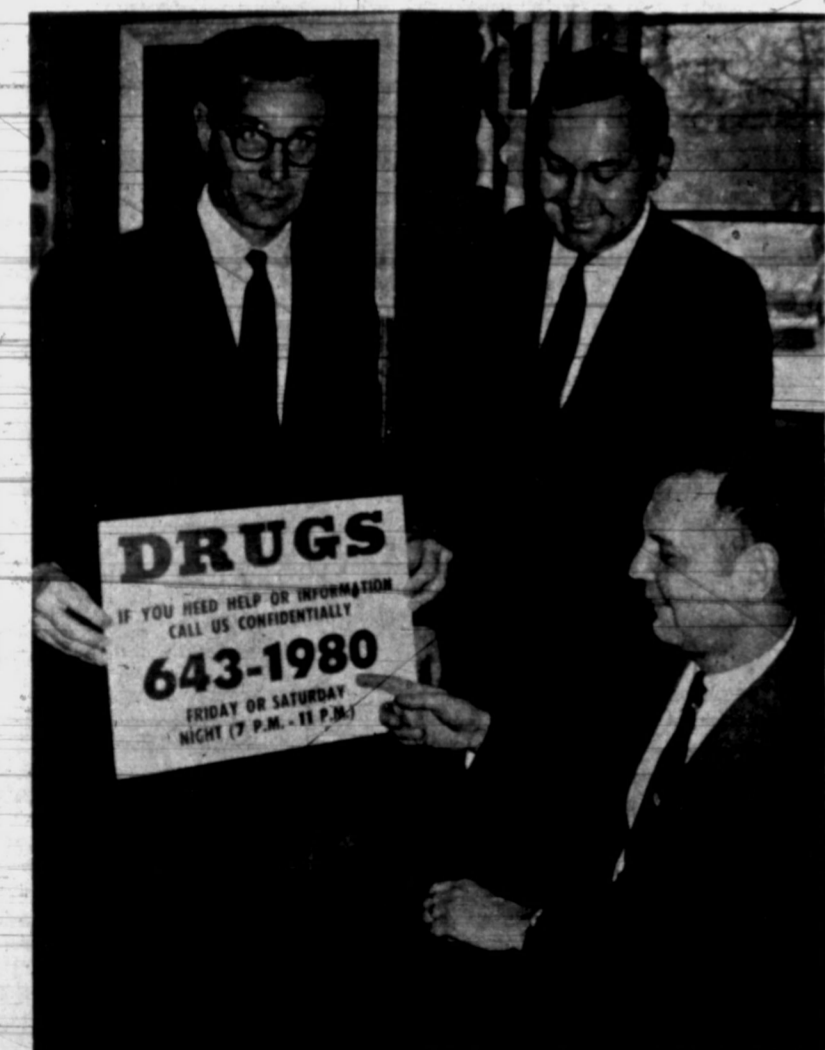

Forest explained that this figure was arrived at by taking the 1969 budget, exclusive of salaries, adding to it $60,000 to allow for increased costs, and subtracting that sum from the total in the 1970 budget. However, about 90 per cent of the budget is salaries and these have not yet been determined.

Considerable discussion followed on how the committee could expand programs without extra money. Operation Male being noted particularly, but no conclusion was reached. The committees will meet again Tuesday. The Finance Committee will discuss the school budget Feb. 16 and meet with the School Committee for a final session on Feb. 17.

The committee also reviewed its three warrant articles. One, with an estimated cost of $116,000, would replace Junior High Industrial Arts' 45-year old coal fed heating system with an oil burner system. This item has been rejected for three years by the Finance Committee and is now at a higher cost than ever before.

The second article which the School Committee and Park Commission submitted jointly asked for funds, estimated from $22,000 to $25,000, to replace the outdoor track at Peirce Field.

The third article at an estimated $22,500, would replace sections on high school building B's boiler which is over 40 years old.

THE DRUG TELEPHONE SIGN, copies of which are being distributed throughout Arlington, tells the story of the drug line which starts Friday. Callers may telephone 643-1980 from 7 to 11 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays to speak confidentially to trained volunteers. Displaying the sign are James Hood, administrator of Symmes Hospital which is making the room available; Arthur O'Brien, general manager for New England Telephone Company which installed the special line; and John J. Balafer, chairman of the Drug Action Committee, which initiated the program. (Advocate Staff Photo)

Collins' Corner

By Leonard Collins

On a bright moonlight night many years ago a Patriot raced up Mass. ave. telling all the King's Men were coming, and he went down in history as the first Patriot to rebel.

Well, it seems later an Englishman arrived on our shores and gave his name to a fine institution known as Harvard down Cambridge way and since then they have been on the front pages many times, which of course is natural for all who attain notoriety and prominence.

But sometimes they seem to get into positions that are a bit unnecessary and there are a couple of instances which come to the writer's mind. In 1912 a Dartmouth football team coached by Major Cavanaugh came roaring down from the north determined to give John Harvard a real beating, but the Crimson won 3 to 0 by virtue of a drop kick by Charlie Brickley.

Those in command in Cambridge thought the Indians from the Hanover Hills were celebrating the First Thanksgiving, and were really anxious to scalp The Harvards, and so like our Patriots of today they swapped notes for 10 years, and finally sat down, kissed and made up, and the Big Green football players were allowed to enter the portals of the stadium again to do combat.

Then again in 1924 Yale was told they would be the only permanent team on Harvard's football list, and Princeton, who had always been one of the chosen few felt very very hurt indeed, and so neither one answered their mail for 10 years and in 1934 they sat down and went through the same ritual that they had done with the Indians from New Hampshire.

It might be mentioned, of course, that in the 1924 game the doctors found an imprint of a signet ring on the large proboscis of a Crimson player.

So you see Harvard Stadium is very hallowed ground, even though they allow the Bruins to practice in the Watson Rink, the Red Sox to bat out flies in the Briggs Cage, and even though Mr. Pusey does not think association with pro's is very nice, the fact remains they do hire professional fighters to instruct the boxers, and pro coaches for baseball and basketball, and one time a professional runner from England to instruct the track men.

But as years moved on they became quite pure and while other colleges were winning they were going down faster than the stock market in 1929.

In those days men took the gas pipe, jumped out of tall buildings, and so Harvard wishing to go along with the swim ripped down all the wooden stands, seating about 20,000.

The Patriots played Houston there in 1962, and have played there a few times since. Of course,

It is not too comfy there since they took out the wooden seats, and on a frosty October or November afternoon can become mighty cold-sitting on that frozen cement.

So maybe Mr. Pusey has endured a few such afternoons, and is interested in the health of the football fans of Greater Boston, even if it would only be for a couple of hours seven times a year.

Oh well, John Harvard was not always afraid to consort with a pro, on a walk through the Yard one will see a bronze plaque that states "Hollworthy Hall Built by a State Lottery in 1812." So as of this writing the date of the All Star game of the Protesting Patriots and President Pusey is in doubt.

Taxpayers' Voice Rates Four Reps

The Taxpayers' Voice of Massachusetts Inc. has rated Arlington's representatives, two good and two poor, in roll calls on 1969 legislation affecting taxpayers.

Points were given on 20 separate measures for the way the representatives voted in relation to what the Taxpayers' Voice considered to be for or against the best interests of good government.

The legislation included such bills as paying county employees under civil service, investigating high electrical costs, reducing the size of the House, and addition of the 14 per cent tax surcharge.

Rep. Eleanor Campobasso received 63 points and a good rating. Rep. Edward Dever, 12 points, for a poor. Rep. Gregory Khachadorian, 72 points, good, and Rep. William A. Pickett, 24, poor.

Hearings Coming On Bills To Aid Elderly Taxpayers

A public hearing will be held Monday, Feb. 9, in Room 237 of the State House at 10 a.m. on proposed legislation to raise the amount of property valuation for the elderly and for personal exemption for senior citizens.

The Committee on Taxation will be hearing House 805, the petition by Rep. Eleanor Campobasso, Sen. Philibert Pelligrini and others to raise from $20,000 to $30,000 the assessed value of a home which an elderly taxpayer may own and be eligible for real estate tax exemptions.

The Committee will also be hearing House Bill 549, the petition of Rep. Gregory Khachadorian which would grant abatements of up to $350 to taxpayers over 70 years of age.

That Man About Town

By MAT

Six candidates for three spots. The School Committee race is on. Incumbents Tom Kenna and Carl Allen are being challenged by two newcomers and two who have already shown an active interest in school problems.

The newcomers Jo Ann Benoit and Earle Rowe are off to slow starts. Jo Ann almost didn't get started at all.

At a candidates night on Monday it was announced that she was not attending because she planned to withdraw from the race. Tuesday her campaign manager called the boss to say she had considered dropping out but changed her mind.

She's lived in Arlington for less than a year, coming from Bridgewater. She has been active in PTA there and in Head Start programs on the South Shore. Reportedly she'll soon make her views known about the issues here.

Earle Rowe, whose papers were taken out by former School Committee member Charlie Kent, is a certified public accountant, interested in economy, and wonders why school building needs weren't foreseen years ago. (Don't we all?)

Dr. Richard Kraus and Eugene Kirby are off to a running start. The two have joined forces to raise money, but are running independent campaigns.

Kirby ran for School Committee last year and ran well. For many years he was a skilled worker before going into vocational education. He teaches in the Boston school system and is knowledgeable about problems in the vocational-technical education area.

Kirby is interested in seeing the town obtain more federal aid in vocational programs and offering job-training to all slow-learners.

Dick Kraus, assistant director of admissions at Harvard, has a PhD in economics and has obtained a good basic knowledge of the Arlington school system and its problems and promises over the past six months. He serves as a member of the School Facilities Survey Committee which hired the Booz, Allen and Hamilton consultants to recommend some solutions to housing needs.

On that committee, Kraus has probably learned more about the Arlington schools than a new School Committee member learns in his first year. And during the past year Kraus has attended a number of School Committee meetings to strengthen his knowledge of the problems and challenges the Committee faces.

He knows what the job is, has assessed how the present School Committee approaches problems, apparently feels he can do a better job, and he's in the race. And, privately anyway, he has the support of several members of the 12 man School Facilities Survey Committee on which he serves. They've seen him in action, liked his style, and apparently feel he'd be a good addition to the School Committee.

All in all, Kraus is by far the strongest candidate and most qualified of the challengers and perhaps of all the candidates.

That brings us to the incumbents.

Carl Allen, who has been a member of the committee for 21 years is a proven vote getter and will be seeking his eighth term.

Tom Kenna, the present School Committee Chairman, has served three years and is generally considered a liberal. Kenna has supported closer contact between the School Committee and the people, and he is convinced that in the past three years great strides have been made in that area. Perhaps they have, but there is still a long way to go.

Groups of parents, PTA's and individuals have all had trouble getting heard by the School Committee. The boss says that if there's been improvement over the past then the past must have been absolutely unbelievable. It has been.

Meetings between parent groups and the School Committee have been far short of cordial—never mind sympathetic and understanding. In the past six months people have been kept waiting for hours of dreary reports only to be given a few minutes (usually sometime after 10 p.m.) to make their presentation. Then they are cut short, usually without getting satisfaction.

The Committee has a policy that groups who wish to be heard must be a spokesman and that's it. Other parents appearing must sit in silence. Well, that policy can be changed. All it takes is the vote of five School Committee members.

And a change wouldn't result in chaos either. The Selectmen have no problem controlling their hearings and interviews with complaining residents and neither should the School Committee.

If Tom Kenna feels the Committee should be brought closer to the people then he's "not begun to fight." There is a lot more to be done in this area.

The whole School Committee meeting procedure is in bad shape. It would be very educational for Arlington committee members to sit in on some school committee meetings in other towns where the committee takes action, questions the administration, sets policy, hears parents who bring up individual and general problems and makes progress.

If Tom Kenna is in favor of getting the committee closer to the community, then perhaps he should be returned to office just for that reason.

For far too many years the School Committee has been functioning like the hands on the Town clock—going around and around, accomplishing little, passing time. And during that time the members of the committee have gotten older and older but not wiser and wiser.

The School Committee is a place for leadership: saying yes or no to programs prepared by the administration doesn't require any leadership. Approving budgets, giving teachers raises, and listening to reports doesn't take any great thinking or special skill.

Fifty percent or more of the School Committee's time should be devoted to making and long range planning. Ask to see the School Committee's plan of action for the next decade—or for even the next five years. What is its policy toward busing pupils to empty classrooms all over town, to the neighborhood school concept, to a four-house system at the high school, to portable classrooms for long term use?

When the Booz, Allen and Hamilton firm began studying the school facilities needs, it uncovered a whole list of problems that the people have a right to expect that the School Committee would have identified, studied and solved long before they turned from the probably to the actual and a crash program was the only recourse.

The School Committee is slow to change. It changes only with a change in its membership, and sometimes not even then. Years of service shouldn't necessarily be considered a qualification or a disqualification for any office. But an analysis of the present need for school housing and other factors leads one to believe that the School Committee's performance in some areas has been something less than outstanding during the last 20 years and perhaps the last 20.

THE BOX SCORE: Selectmen: all present. School Committee: John Morine absent, all others present. Selectmen meet Monday at 7:15 p.m., Town Hall. School Committee meets Tuesday, 7:30 p.m. at the Junior High Industrial Arts building.

Head Start Funded

WEMBROC (Western Metropolitan Boston Regional Opportunity Council Inc.) which includes Arlington, has been notified that it will receive $232,000 for a 37 week Head Start program.

The communication from OEO also indicates that the $40,000 used last year for a summer program must be used this year in several suggested ways to expand the regular program: administration and fiscal controls which were lost in the recent $51,000 funding cut, increased enrollment, raises for staff for the first time in three years, career development for staff and aides.

resulting from a power shortage. There was no serious damage reported.

Engine 4 went from the arcing wire on Franklin st. to a downed wire on Cleveland st. at 8:01 p.m. where it was tied up waiting for Edison until 10:10 p.m.

Power was reported out for some time in the Jason st., Gray

st. area and the high winds blew construction horses across Route 2 causing confusion and stopping traffic.

The Arlington Fire Department had to summon extra help from Medford and Somerville and at one time had four engines standing by downed wires.

A Medford engine, covering for Arlington, responded to 9 Vanner rd. for a downed wire at 7:50 p.m. and remained there until an Edison emergency crew finally arrived at 10:49 p.m., about three hours after the wire was first reported down.

As the bad weather continued on Tuesday, several more wires were reported down in parts of Arlington. Engine 3 was called to an arcing wire on Linden st. at 8:05 a.m. and stood by for two hours. Engine 2 was dispatched to Brattle Court at 9:17 a.m. and another engine was sent to Webcove rd. for a wire at 8:48 a.m. It was tied up for two hours there.

Later in the day the police department was called to more downed wires on Vanner rd. and Cleveland st.

Fire Chief Robert Blomquist said he will contact Edison Company officials about making arrangements for a more prompt response to emergencies. He expressed hope that Edison might assign at least one crew just to cover Arlington when the wires start to fall.

According to an Edison Company spokesman, the emergency crews were dispatched from Edison Service Center in Somerville. He said that Edison has a master plan for major emergencies and less of a plan for something that is "less than a major emergency."

He described the Monday night storm as falling into the latter category and said that the company does not call in a large number of extra men in these cases.

Political News

The Arlington Advocate's policy regarding the publication of news releases prepared by candidates for political office shall be as follows:

We shall print one statement announcing candidacy for the major offices, selectman, school committee, and assessor, and two letters to the editor in behalf of a candidate. Additionally, we shall print those releases which have news value (describing where and when a candidate is speaking and his topic, etc.) but must limit the strictly "promotional" type statements about the candidates views on various issues. Otherwise we'd soon find that we would have enough "news" releases each week to fill several papers. And, the Advocate's news staff will cover candidates' nights and meetings where the candidates are speaking and will report news that develops from these meetings.

In this way, each candidate will have ample opportunity to get across his views on the issues, and our office and the voters won't be inundated with reams of news releases from the candidates with the fastest typewriters.

Teachers' Assn. Starts Action For Arbitration

Negotiations between the Arlington School Committee and Arlington Teachers' Association have reached an impasse on salaries and will go into arbitration.

Reed Taylor, president of ATA, says he will go personally to the American Arbitration Association this week to start proceedings.

This will be the first time the teachers have gone into arbitration on salaries, but recently they were in arbitration over payment for vandalism to a teacher's car.

The three-year contract for the teachers expires this June. Negotiations have been going on since September for a new contract.

Under the arbitration process five names will be submitted to the two sides for selection of one man agreeable to both. According to the present contract "the decision of the arbitrator shall be final and binding upon the parties provided that the decision of the arbitrator does not usurp the functions of the Committee."

Under the present salary schedule a beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree starts at $6,800 and at $7,400 with a master's. Top salary is $12,800 for an earned doctorate, $11,000 with a bachelor's.

League Holding 3 Programs On Town Government

The Arlington League of Women Voters is sponsoring a three-part "Know Your Town Week" program to provide information on local government, particularly the Town Manager Act, Town Meeting and the Warrant.

"Know Your Town Week," which has been planned with the cooperation of town officials, will begin on Feb. 10.

"The Ins and Outs of Town Meeting," is the first program, scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 10, 7:45 p.m. at 4 Wollaston ave., the corner of Park ave.

Participating will be Selectman Arthur D. Saul, who will discuss preparation of the warrant; Finance Committee Chairman George K. Rugg, on the role of the Finance Committee; and Town

Moderator Lawrence E. Corcoran on the functioning of the town meeting.

A workshop on the structure of Arlington's government will be held Wednesday, Feb. 11, at 9:15 a.m. in the Town Hall Hearing Room.

Michael Sullivan, Administrative assistant to the town manager will lead the discussion on "A Glimpse of Town Government Before the Town Manager Act."

Participating in the program will be Town Manager Donald R.

Marquis; Frank Nicksay, executive secretary to the Board of Selectmen; and Leo Young, Director of Planning and Community Development.

Babysitting for the whole morning will be provided by Mrs. Warren Siemens, 22 Swan place.

A review of the warrant will be held Thursday, Feb. 12, at 8 p.m. at Edith B. Fox Branch Library.

"What's Up This Year—A Review of the Major Issues Facing the 1970 Town Meeting" is the topic for this final program of the week.

small windows, was added later. Furnishings in this room include a piano, china, knife and fork chests, one from 1710, and flax wheel. Unbleached cotton curtains frame the windows.

On the stairway up to the bedrooms is the body of a clock from the home of Deacon Joseph Adams. The works are missing, since they were taken by the British for melting into bullets.

Also on the stairway is a banner carried in the memory of Jason Russell and the men killed in 1825 to the dedication of Bunker Hill Monument. The old bannister is held together with wooden pegs.

The original bedroom has a ropespring bed and cradle, a blanket chest, hide chest and warming pan.

The newer bedroom is furnished with a pineapple canopy bed, a writing desk, several chests and a display of samplers, one dated 1765.

In the hallway next to the stairs is a sliding panel which raises to reveal a hiding place.

Another addition was the lean-to room in which are stored all sorts of things, from Indian tomahawks, nails to wood slices, a poison arrow, needlework and dolls, many with china heads.

The house will be open until November. Mrs. Irene Capes is caretaker.

Second Term

Thomas D. Kenna To Try
For Seat On School Board

Thomas D. Kenna, Jr., in announcing his candidacy for re-election to the School Committee, has issued the following statement:

It has been my privilege to serve the people of Arlington as a member of the School Committee for the past three years during which time I had 100% attendance at all School Committee meetings.

I have worked toward better communication between the schools and the people, a more efficient approach to school business, capital budgeting of expensive school equipment and, most of all, I have worked to improve the educational quality commensurate with the financial ability of the town.

I have attempted to convince the Committee that an $8,000,000 budget, 10,000 students and nearly 600 professional personnel warrants at least two regularly scheduled meetings each month. I feel that a progressive Committee, that meets at least twice a month in open session, is one to which the parents, children, citizens and taxpayers are entitled.

One meeting a month may have been adequate when the Arlington School Committee was responsible for an operating budget of only $1,000,000. Today, we must conduct the school business the way 70% of other cities and towns with similar budgets do, at least two regularly scheduled open meetings each month.

In the last three years almost 75% of the regular monthly meetings adjourned after midnight. Some important decisions were made in executive sessions which, for the most part, did not commence until 11 p.m.

It is my hope this year that the Committee will amend its rules in order that it may program its time in such a way that it can have 100% attendance, 100% awareness of the business of the meeting and 100% achievement or as close thereto as can reasonably be expected.

The Town Meeting of 1969 voted a Capital Budgeting Committee. It is concerned with capital investments and improvements that may be required within a six-year period. The School Committee is now approaching its capital budget items in a similar manner.

In the area of education, Arlington continues to attract capable teachers, Booz, Allen & Hamilton reports, "The productivity of the professional staff is high."

Quality educational programs, instituted by the Committee and further encouraged by Booz, Allen & Hamilton are: the gradual move toward non-graded instruction in the elementary grades, increasing emphasis upon independent study programs, flexible scheduling team teaching, increased reliance upon a full range of library services to supplement classroom instruction, increased use of small and large group instructional areas and finally the move toward more work-training experiences for secondary pupils.

As a working member of the School Committee I have been chairman this past year. I have served as a member of the 1969 School Facilities Survey Committee. I have served for two years on the sub-committee negotiating teachers salaries. I was elected by the School Committee to serve as a member of the Permanent Town Building Committee in accordance with the vote of the 1969 Town Meeting.

My personal background is as follows: Holy Cross College, AB in Mathematics; Boston College Law School, LL.B.; Bentley College, practicing attorney almost 20 years, presently at 637 Massachusetts Ave., Arlington; married to the former Patricia Beresford, former teacher at the Peirce School; parents of three children, Thomas Patrick, 8, student at the Dallin School; David Beresford, 5, kindergarten student at the Dallin School and John Lawrence, 1.

At an organizational meeting held last month, the following people were appointed to assist in the campaign for School Committee election: Robert W. Totten, 135 Medford St., Campaign Manager; Mrs. Charles J. Ahern, 262 Florence Ave., Secretary; and Mrs. Frank L. Meagher, 59 Hathaway Cir., who will be in charge of coffee hours in which the issues of the campaign can be discussed.

School Survey

Replace Locke by 1978, expand Peirce as soon as possible, expand Stratton by 1974 and perform other necessary renovations and expansions.

In its evaluation of existing facilities the Booz, Allen and Hamilton team pointed particularly at Building A, the junior highs and Industrial Arts buildings, Cutter, Locke, Parmenter and Peirce as schools needing renovation. In many of these schools it was noted that improved roofing, plumbing, electrical systems and lighting were needed.

The summary report notes that Arlington showed little evidence of long-range planning for school facilities. With the Booz, Allen and Hamilton report, authorities will now have a tool for planning in the future.

In studying the town the researchers noted several points the pattern of neighborhood schools will be suitable for the future; enrollment will go up 18 per cent over the next 10 years, compared with 26 per cent expansion in the past 10 years; and expansion will be in western Arlington.

The alternatives which were studied but not recommended by the consultants included 12-month school and extension of the school days with the addition of demountable classrooms. The report notes that these alternatives would defer improvements needed now.

Another alternative was the educational park which would have called for replacement of all school buildings in a 40 acre area at costs of over $40 million.

After reviewing the report the School Facilities Survey Committee submitted five warrant articles for town meeting consideration. One article asks for funds to make improvements for safety reasons in some of the schools another asks funds for demountable classrooms. A third article asks funds for a study and cost estimates on renovating at the high school as opposed to constructing a fourth building. The fourth article asks funds for a study and estimates on renovation and expansion at Junior High West.

The fifth article submitted by the committee requests funds for estimates on renovation and additions at the Peirce School.

Visiting Nurses Elect Officers, Hear Dr. Burbank

The Arlington Visiting Nursing Association heard a discussion of hospital emergency departments and elected new officers at its recent annual meeting.

New officers are Mrs. Alfred Yood, president; Mrs. Robert Judge, first vice president; Mrs. Lawrence Anderson, second vice president; Mrs. Lindsay Biatrow, recording secretary; Mrs. Norris Hoyt, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Spencer Dormitzer, treasurer; and Mrs. Nelson Brown, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Willard Slagle and Mrs. Henry Szafarz, directors.

Dr. Charles Burbank, chairman of the emergency department of Symmes Hospital, was guest speaker. He told the group that Symmes treated 14,554 emergency patients in 1969 and has 24-hour coverage by doctors.

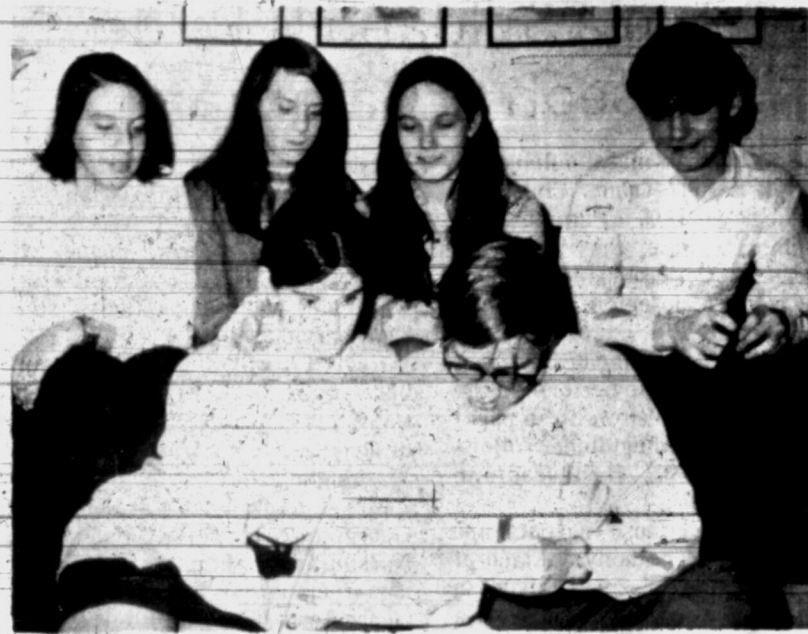

According to Dr. Burbank the number of patients being treated in emergency departments has increased 700 per cent in the past 20 years. Emergency departments have been forced to enlarge, improve facilities, and increase staffs.

Dr. Burbank says the goal of all hospital emergency departments is to have 24-hour coverage by doctors responsible just to that department. Emergency departments were directed by a hospital committee which is checked by teams from the American College of Surgeons, the American Hospital Association and the Joint Commission on Accreditation.

To raise funds for the orphanage the youth league has conducted bake sales, a slave labor day and a dance. They are also collecting green stamps with which to buy a jeep needed by the doctor at the orphanage.

Headquarters For Perry Are Opened

The Committee to elect John G. Perry as an Assessor has opened its headquarters at 870 Massachusetts ave. (second floor), opposite Arlington High School.

An invitation to visit or phone (646-7986) headquarters is extended to all who may wish to lend their support to Perry's candidacy.

In making the announcement, the Committee said that it is Perry's opinion that taxpayers of Arlington, both homeowners and renters, need to become more informed about the actual function of an Assessor. Perry says they need an Assessor upon whom they will feel free to call for information and advice, who will be sympathetic and fair while being realistic and progressive about the tax problems, and who will work with other town officials on a cooperative basis to find the best solutions to these problems.

Thomas R. Rawson Is Candidate For Selectman

The Committee to elect Thomas R. Rawson selectman this week released the following statement concerning his candidacy:

"The entrance of Thomas R. Rawson into the Selectman's contest has caused quite a commotion around the town and especially to the other candidates for Selectman.

"A spokesman of the Rawson for Selectman Committee said the reaction has been favorable and very enthusiastic from all sections of the town.

"The people contacted in the past several days felt that Thomas R. Rawson has all the necessary experience and qualifications both theoretical and practical for the office of Selectman. His many years as a successful businessman along with his previous experience as Chairman of the many important boards he presided over, such as the Board of Selectmen, Board of Public Works and Board of Survey stand behind him the spokesman said.

"The consensus of opinion gathered by the Rawson Committee around town at this early date is that Thomas R. Rawson has an excellent chance to win one of the two seats in the selectman contest because of his knowledge of town problems confronting the very heavily burdened taxpayer.

"The problem of depriving some of the elderly of their $4000 exemption on their assessment to their property must be solved to help these people and the candidate Thomas R. Rawson will do everything possible to see that action is taken on this matter, the spokesman said.

Also this problem is created by a law that must be changed and is no fault of your board of assessors but your Selectmen can help correct these inequities through the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association by supporting legislation to rewrite this law.

"Tommy" as he is known by most people and his wife Anne have resided at 54 Hutchinson rd. for the past 26 years. They have four married daughters, Mrs. Ronald L. Hall, Mrs. Raymond J. Pothier, Mrs. Thomas J. Legere, Jr. and Mrs. John W. DeNapoli who also own homes and reside in Arlington. The Rawson's have 15 grandchildren so "Tommy" has a vital interest in the future of the Town of Arlington.

Among the items needed are supplies such as baby bottles, baby foods, powdered milk, diapers, clothing, soap, toothbrushes, toothpaste, fabric and sewing supplies. Donations of S&H green stamps will be put towards a jeep for the orphanage which the late Dr. Tom Dooley helped to found.

Contributions of money will be used by the group to purchase supplies.

Anyone wishing to contribute may deliver items to Mrs. Ricciardelli's house or call her at 648-1808 for pick up. A first shipment of supplies to Vietnam is scheduled for Feb. 25.

William S. Abbott Seeks
Seat On Bd. Of Selectmen

William S. Abbott has issued the following statement on his candidacy for the Board of Selectmen.

Today I announce my candidacy for the office of Selectman for the Town of Arlington.

It is after much searching thought and discussions with my fellow citizens that I have made the decision to seek this office with your help. For although we face serious problems at all levels of our government, the urgent problems here in Arlington demand, I think, a new commitment from our citizens to seek their solution.

With a rising cost of living that makes us all a little poorer each day, it is time here in Arlington to take up the cause of the individual citizen and taxpayer. For it is upon his back and from his paycheck and savings that all the burdens of our town are carried.

This individual citizen -- the fellow who pays his taxes, who obeys the law, who is a good neighbor, who votes on election day -- who does the best he can to provide for his family and get along -- this year has said "Enough!"

This town has urgent problems to solve and the individual citizen has had enough of the roar of the politicians and the usual campaign promises -- the empty promises that come each year but are followed by little action.

The individual citizen wants lean, efficient minimum town government -- and so do I.

He wants a property tax rate and budget that eliminates "frills and extras" and raises funds to pay only for matters of the greatest need -- and so do I.

He wants a system of town planning and creative thinking that provides for the best development on available land and redevelopment of existing land to broaden the Town's shrinking tax base -- and so do I.

He wants the drug problem thoroughly aired and positive decision action taken now to correct it -- and so do I.

He wants the transportation along our major artery by the MBTA drastically improved through better service -- and so do I.

He wants action taken now on all these fronts to preserve the character of Arlington as a fine proud residential suburb of Boston -- and so do I.

Now he demands action from the Board of Selectmen -- not the usual passive approach of the past few years that has allowed our town to drift into a period of stagnation; but rather the initiative, the creativity and a sense of positive direction that will give us the best in town government for the limited tax dollars provided.

I am both humble and proud to take up this cause -- and I am from this moment a candidate for Selectman for the Town of Arlington.

My qualifications: I graduated from Lexington High School, Harvard College, and Harvard Law School, and served three years in the United States Navy. In 1966 I went to Washington where I served as a White House Fellow working on matters of federal-local finance, and later as Director of the Agriculture Department's assistance programs from Asia.

In 1968 I returned to Arlington, and am now associated with the development firm of Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, and also maintain a law office at 661 Massachusetts Ave., Arlington. I reside at 50 Melvin rd. with my wife and two children.

If I should be elected, I pledge here and now to serve my entire term on the Board in the interest of Arlington.

Now those who expect the same tired old campaign effort will be disappointed. We cannot afford to mark time any longer. We must face the issues. There will be no hiding behind empty slogans in this campaign. As a candidate, I am going to give the people the facts.

I mean to wage a campaign the likes of which has never been seen here before. But this will be much more than a campaign. There is too much at stake. We here today take up the cause of the individual citizen -- and there is a rough road ahead. Change should be the watchword today, change to get Arlington moving.

There is room in this citizens' effort for everyone. I ask you students, you housewives, you retired people, and all others interested in good government to join with us and come along. We have a job for every volunteer in this campaign. If you have an hour, an afternoon, or a weekend, we want you on the team, and I personally extend to you my invitation to become part of this effort.

If there is a central theme to what I say here today, let that theme be service. I will not accept the endorsement of any political organization. I mean to be a Selectman of all the people. I want to serve, not sit.

I invite you to join our effort to help get Arlington moving again.

Thomas M. Kelly Announces
For Housing Authority Race

Thomas M. Kelly, 20 Pine st., has announced his candidacy for Arlington Housing Authority with the following statement:

I would like to thank the voters of Arlington who signed my nomination papers and those who have offered to support me as a candidate for the Arlington Housing Authority.

I am a homeowner, taxpayer and father of five children. Since 1961 I have been a resident of Arlington. I am a graduate of Somerville Public Schools and attended the University of Tennessee.

At present I am employed by the M.B.T.A., a Town Meeting Member from Precinct 11, a member of Town Meeting Association, former member of the Arlington Housing Authority, 1961-66, former chairman of the Arlington Housing Authority, 1966, and a veteran of W.W. II and a member of the Knights of Columbus.

As a member of the Arlington

Housing Authority I have served the elderly and the veterans to the best of my ability. I am aware of the housing problems facing the elderly and veterans of Arlington and would like to return as member of that board.
